Additional Notes

QSWO

Quarter Sawn White Oak and Walnut will only be available with Solid Reversed Raised Panels on all flat panel door styles.

The Woodline door should be replaced with the PLUSLINE door when selecting QSWO or Walnut. The 1/4" veneer material was not up to Woodland's quality standards necessitating the change to solid wood center panels.

QSWO is insanely popular. Not only for cabinetry but for flooring, trim and furniture. Woodland continues to work with multiple suppliers to maintain the highest quality standards. However, the variations in the color and grain patterns continues to increase. We are asking our dealers to continue to educate your clients that when select lighter or natural finishes the variations in color and grain consistency will be highlighted. Finished plywood ends may also appear different than the solid wood cabinet fronts. Designers may want to consider adding doors on exposed cabinet ends

Finishes

Woodland spends a lot of time researching the finish offering. They review colors for popularity and appearance across multiple wood species. That's why we might not have all stains available on all wood specie we offer. They also review the current color offering and discontinue unpopular colors or colors that prove to be inconsistent.

Based upon 2023 sales the following finishes will be discontinued in the new 2024 specification and pricing guide:

Cinnamon, Dune, Espresso, Heather, Sable, and Toast stains and Olive opaque paint.
